

Tourniquets

McKesson Tourniquets are designed to help minimize patient discomfort when applied in medical settings. Their high elastic, tear-resistant material is offered in two styles. The smooth option is made of natural rubber latex. The non-latex textured option features a slip-resistant surface. Our tourniquets are safe and convenient to use. Medical staff can apply them with ease and dispose of them quickly to help reduce the risk of cross-contamination.

Features and Benefits

- Durable, elastic material to minimize breaking and allow for easy application
- Perforated or pre-cut options—packaged for easy dispensing
- Designed for single patient use
- Available in different colors and textures
