REAL FOOD BLENDS LLC PROP 65 COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

Real Food Blends LLC does not intentionally add chemicals to products produced that are currently listed in the California Proposition 65 list of chemicals known to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. All ingredients and packaging utilized in our products are sourced from suppliers who process these items in compliance to applicable food safety regulations and sound environmental conditions. Some ingredients however may inherently contain chemicals that are included in the list such as lead and other heavy metals, residual pesticides and other compounds found naturally in the environment or due to processing to achieve the ingredient specification requirements and unknown to Real Food Blends. Since Real Food Blends does not test for the presence of these compounds, we cannot confirm that trace compounds included in the Prop 65 list are absent from the products provided
